

Sounds Familiar?

Perhaps some of these situations may seem familiar to you:

Creating a quote simply takes too long. It's difficult. It's complicated. Many times you don't know where critical information is. Information about orders, quotes, customers, salespeople...

You may not know which customer or salesman or which territory is bringing the most profits
And also, which products are the most profitable?

How about key company statistics that you simply don't have at hand. Without it, monitoring the performance of remote salespeople is simply very hard. When they leave, you are left in the dark...

So, without key statistics at hand, can you see the business opportunities out there?

What is QuoteLeap®?

QuoteLeap is a web-based quote generating system designed to reduce operational costs and increase productivity in the quote-sales cycle by creating quotes in seconds from your own web catalog. QuoteLeap allows you to easily upload your entire product or service catalog with datasheets and cost information.

You are able to manage all sales efforts from a multitude of users in many locations throughout the world by monitoring all statistics generated when quotes are created as well as customers, vendors and users with the simple use of a browser.

Who is it for?

QuoteLeap is designed for companies that:

- Have multiple locations and/or a sales force residing in multiple regions. From different states within a country to a multitude of locations throughout the world.
- Require a certain amount of involvement and effort to generate a quote due to the implicit complexity or unique nature of their products or services.
- Have customers that require help in selecting the products or services they need.
- Have employees or agents involved in the quoting process.

As a web-based system, it allows complete monitoring and control of the quoting and sales efforts with real time statistics with the simple use of a browser.

Tell us more...

It contains routines to upload your product lines simply and effortlessly. Once the database is established, quotes can be generated in seconds as pdf documents. Catalog information as datasheets and list and cost prices can be updated in a snap. Customers, users and vendors are managed effectively as well.

Stats from the actual quotes...

QuoteLeap is built using the latest technologies available now. It comprises what other systems can only dream of. Lightning fast, QuoteLeap has been created with the expertise of dozens of professionals in various industry fields. QuoteLeap core resides in its ability to generate all reports and controls from the actual quotes which are generated from your own private product/service catalog.

What industries do you cover?

QuoteLeap has been designed to accommodate countless of applications in many different industries. From life insurance to industrial equipment, from furniture manufacturing to automotive repair. QuoteLeap is versatile and flexible.

How much is it?

QuoteLeap pricing structure allows companies to afford a sophisticated, complex system that normally would cost hundreds of thousands of dollars. ## How about future versions and features?

Our team continuously improves and includes additional features into the system. As a never ending project, QuoteLeap offers upgrades and new versions free of charge to all subscribing customers. Once you become a subscriber, your rate remains fixed indefinitely, even as new versions come out and prices increase.

QuoteLeap will bring your company to a new level of operational savings and increased productivity. Try it today!

Generate quotes in pdf format...

QuoteLeap greatest advantage is its ability to generate quotes simply and effectively. Quotes can be created with a total per quote, or more detailed showing net prices for each item. Additionally, quote worksheets can be generated showing cost information and profit margins. With the quote in pdf, you can print it or email it in just a few seconds.

Know how your company is doing...

What is the value of knowing at any time the total sales performance of the company? Maybe it is a region, a user or a customer. You will be able to see in real time the latest quotes and sales, profit margins and hit ratios. Invaluable!

Accuracy on every quote...

It is difficult to completely grasp the total costs associated with inaccurate quotes. Faulty information on product description, list prices, cost information, datasheets or terms and conditions can be the source of potential problems once the order is received. However, with QuoteLeap both operational and legal issues can be prevented as every quote generated will conform to the company commercial standards and verified product information.

Know where to aim...

With QuoteLeap's stats you will clearly see who is bringing business, which customers are responsive to your quotes and which are not.

Complete and immediate control...

QuoteLeap has the ability to create or modify global information available to all users in your company. Do you need to change the list price of a product? No problem, just a few clicks and it is done. How about modifying the datasheet for one of your services? Not an issue, just a few clicks. You have a new territory manager? Update her user information in seconds and let her take charge of the territory.

Follow up on quotes...

When you make a phone call to any of your customers you will have all quotes generated for that customer and all information about him. You will be able to write notes on quotes and customers, so next time you will know exactly where you left.

Consistency on every quote...

With QuoteLeap you will generate every quote exactly the same. Every user will have in his or her quotes exactly the same information in the same format. No information will be missing, terms and conditions as well as product info will be uniformly presented to customers regardless of which user creates the quote.

Consolidate all information...

No more looking for a hard copy catalog or trying to find the product information from different sources. No more wasting time trying to see what the updated price of a product is. All information is consolidated in QuoteLeap.
